CORNEY & BARROW
INDEPENDENT WINE MERCHANTS
Established 1780

In Brazil, the old folk superstition associates August with bad luck, from the proverbial “mês do cachorro louco” – “month of the crazy dog”. At least there aren’t any crazy dogs among the wines in this month’s offer! With whites to chill off those warm August evenings, and the spicy kick of the Chilean Cabernet to complement the last of our summer barbecues, August doesn’t look like bringing such bad luck after all.

Rueda, Viña Garedo, 2005 (Case of 12) A very recent addition to our portfolio, this is an incredibly easy-drinking blend of Verdejo, Viura and Sauvignon Blanc from Rueda. Very pale in colour, it is fresh, light and aromatic, presenting delicate floral notes, orchard fruits and hints of gooseberry. There is an attractive mineral definition, which gives focus.	£45.90	-10%: £41.31
La Tunella, Pinot Bianco 2005 (Case of 12) The nose is vibrant and focused, the palate rich in orchard and stone fruits, almond blossom layered with white flowers. Given the propensity of neutral Italian whites, this has a lovely complexity that is complemented by nuts and cream.	£70.57	-10%: £63.51
Domaine Trapet, Gewürztraminer 2003 (Case of 6) Gewürztraminer fares best on the hills below the Vosges, where the climate suits. This one has a wonderfully spiced, floral character. A fabulous complement to lightly spiced dishes.	£53.89	-10%: £48.50
Hacienda Araucano, Jacques et François Lurton, Cabernet Sauvignon 2004 (Case of 6) A wine rich with ripe fruit aromas accompanied by hints of vanilla and chocolate. The mouth is concentrated, powerful and dense, with a good structure and silky tannins as well as a long aftertaste.	£31.68	-10%: £28.51
Mixed 12-bottle case Three bottles of each wine	£71.91	-10%: £64.71
